

a high school building with six classrooms connected to the two sides of a long hallway a house with a living room in the center and four bedrooms connected to each side of the living room, shaped like a cross, each bedroom is connected to a bathroom

